

Ohio Classical Conference 2015

The College of Wooster
1189 Beall Avenue
Wooster, OH 44691

Friday, October 16

10:30-11:30 a.m. Council Meeting Andrews Room A

12:00 -1:45 p.m. Andrews Apex
Vergilian Society Luncheon

Catastrophe in Dialogue: Aeneid 2 and Seneca's Agamemnon
Chris Trinacty, Assistant Professor of Classics, Oberlin College

2:00-3:15 p.m. Andrews Core
Classical History, Literature, and Mythology
Bob White, Shaker Heights High School, presiding

Swashbuckling Warlords in Archaic Italy?
Greg Pellam, The College of Wooster

Teaching Homer's Iliad as a War Text
Dianna Rhyan, The College of Wooster

To 'Hell' with Hercules: Journeys to Disneyland (1995) and the Haunted World (1961)
Bob White, Shaker Heights High School

4:00-5:15 p.m. Scot Governance
Ohio Classical Conference Banquet Lecture

The Greatest Anti-War Poem Imaginable: Granville Barker's Trojan Women in America
Niall Slater, Samuel Candler Dobbs Professor of Greek and Latin, Emory University

5:30 – 6:30 p.m. Wooster Inn
Ohio Classical Conference Reception

Enjoy light appetizers and a wine tasting, cash bar

7:00 – 9:00 p.m. Scot Governance
Ohio Classical Conference Banquet

Saturday, October 17

9:00 – 9:50 a.m. Business Meeting Andrews Core

10:00 – 11:50 a.m. Andrews Core

Origins & Contributions, Pedagogy & Reception
Jeff Kolo, Medina High school, presiding

Revisiting the Origins of Roman Drama and Theater
Timothy Wutrich, Case Western University

Three Unfathomable Moments Involving Masters and Slaves in Texts
William Owens, Ohio University

'Seeing is Believing': The Pedagogy of Visual Literacy in the Classics Curriculum
Kara Morrow, The College of Wooster

Cultural Waves: The Greek Contribution to Human Rights Concepts
Rachel Sternberg, Case Western University

12:00 – 1:30 p.m. Andrews Apex

Boxed Luncheon

It's National Archaeology Day! Grab your lunch and take the brief stroll to Lowry Center to check out our events, including demonstrations of flint knapping and potting techniques, informational booths on local history and cemetery preservation, and displays of casts of fossil hominids.

1:45 – 3:15 p.m. Andrews Core

Undergraduate Panel

Greg Pellam, The College of Wooster, presiding

Several undergraduates will give presentations of their research in Classical Studies and in Classical Archaeology, including talks on frogs in Aristophanes, love in Ovid, martyrdom on the Roman frontier, and the archaeology of a sanctuary on Cyprus.