

The 2019 Annual Meeting of the Ohio Classical Conference

In Conjunction With the Ohio Junior Classical League Fall Forum

October 12, 2019

9:30 am - 5:00 pm¹

Location :

Columbus Academy
4300 Cherry Bottom Road
Gahanna, Ohio 43230

The OCC provides a forum where faculty from secondary schools and colleges and universities may learn about current research and pedagogy in the field of Classical Studies, as well as the opportunity to share their experiences in teaching and their ideas for promoting the value of a classical education. In addition, the OCC annual meeting provides an opportunity to learn about the OJCL.

Currently Scheduled Presentations:

- ❑ Mr. Jack Emmert, Daybreak Games, “Translating Classics Into the Business World”
- ❑ Denise McCoskey, Miami University, “A World of Difference: Unpacking the Greek and Roman Concept of Race”
- ❑ Timothy Wutrich, Case Western Reserve University “Roman Drama Workshop: Reading Plautus's Curculio”
- ❑ Carolin Hahnemann, Kenyon College, “The Far Side of the Triumphal Arch: On the Evolution of War Memorials”

For future updates, check <http://ohioclassicalconference.org/meetings>

¹ Since we are early in the planning process, times are tentative and subject to change.